DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-11 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,343,432. This is a double patenting rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claims 12-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palmer in view of Tryon.

The patents to Palmer and Tryon show decoys. Palmer shows a main body 12 with an orifice 44 and a head 14 with a flange 20, 22, 24 that is insertable in the orifice in the main body. The decoy is made from expanded polystyrene which is polymeric material. The main body is shaped like the body of an animal. The main body encloses a volume to define a hollow interior having an orifice 44. The patent to Tryon shows a three dimensional goose decoy 11, 15 having photographic detail printed thereon. The body is three dimensional since length, height and depth are depicted. In reference to claims 12, 13, 14, 18, it would have been obvious to provide Palmer with the photographic detail as shown by Tryon to provide a decoy with a life-like appearance. In reference to claim 15, Palmer shows embossed detail such as the eyes which are animal features. In reference to claim 16, Tryon shows the features of geese and also discloses ducks and states that other game birds are within the scope of the invention in column 2, lines 11-18. In reference to claim 17, Tryon shows the game bird in a resting position. In reference to claim 19, Palmer shows a head 14, but it would have been obvious to employ plural heads, say for example male and female heads so that an array of decoys could be tailored to the user's preference. In reference to claim 20, Palmer and Tryon show duck and goose decoys.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Mierau, Brown, Wise, Cripe, Heiges, Gazalski, Anderson, DeKezel, Bruce, Karr, Risch, Gazalski, Johnson, Brinkop, and Danz show other decoys.
